

Maliens crossing the Sahara on way to Europe

North Africans crossing the Mediterranean

Muslim Youth Riots in Paris

2011 Yale CES-PIER Summer Institute July 5th – 10th 2011 For Educators Presents Immigration in Europe: Historical Trends and New Challenges

The scope of the European Studies Summer Institute includes both the study of immigrants in Europe while also focusing on the countries of origin from which those immigrants come. It is imperative to view immigration from both sides of the border. Additionally by providing a historical context along with generating comparisons between the changing experience of immigration in Europe and the United States this summer institute strives to develop methods to transform the topic of this program into captivating classroom experiences for both instructors and their students.

Fall of the Berlin Wall

Albanians crossing over into Greece

Tunisians being repatriated from Italy

TO APPLY FOR THE PROGRAM, PLEASE VISIT:
<http://www.yale.edu/macmillan/pier/europeanstudies.htm>

For more information, please contact Douglas Park (Program Director) at douglas.park@yale.edu

Sponsored by PIER and the Council on European Studies at Yale University (CES) with generous support from the CES Title VI National Resource Center Grant from the United States Department of Education.